Super story about you in the ADN! It was great. Kizzia could have added so much more about your interesting background, your passion for Alaska, your expertise in natural resources, etc... but what he covered was very good.

Alaska is truly fortunate to have you. Thanks again for making sacrifices and joining this team. Ya' gotta beleive it will be worth it for our kids' sake!

You're a great woman, Marty. Thanks for everything.

I agree communication is a bit slow at times from the gas team. I had been waiting to hear the teams recommendation and proposed schedule for you to contact the producers as well as our outreach (that Marcia is scheduling) with entites that will not necessarily be participating with our RFA. It sounds as we have the list of CEOs but Marty has indicated that additional bullet points and strategy is needed. I will need to make sure we have everything we need and get times scheduled asap. As far as Marcia's meetings Wednesday, I heard late Friday that she was meeting with Enbridge and Energy Transfer Partners. The feedback I received from the last trip was positive. Do you want me to respond to Sean? I can still send him a note tonight.

Any word from the gasline team or Mike on contacts they want you to make? I prodded them last Thursday night after getting your message that the team had not given you a list of calls or visits to make.

I'm down to less than twenty four hours before Marcia takes off on the Dallas/Houston trip. At this point, I'm planning to forego the trip having not heard from you that the team has addressed your concerns as expressed in the emails below--I clearly communicated your concerns to Marty last Thursday.

Given what appears to have transpired, I am concerned about the seeming lack of organization and communication by the gasline team with you if your concerns haven't yet been addressed. Let me know if this is the case. Thanks.

No problem, I wont confirm or go until I hear from you that it's ok.

And, I'll prod the team to do a better job of helping you make contact.

Let me ask Mike about it as I've heard nothing. In fact, I'm still waiting to hear gasline team's plan for my "outreach" to companies via travels or at least phone calls. Still havent heard from them on it! I may just go with my gut and start the contacts on my own.

I had a message from Marcia Davis to our office regarding the possibility of me accompanying team members on another trip to Houston/Dallas this next week. She hasn't given us company names or timeframe but I can likely make the trip. Is this something you want me doing if they are asking??

The reason for the location in SouthCentral is to accomodate SouthCentral cabinet members and staff for the first cabinet mtg held nearer them in our Admin's first six months.

Crap - as usual its going to get complicated and some folks wont be as enthused as others. My vote and direct is june 15 in wasilla so we can at least get going on it! And we need another cabinet mtg anyway!

And Mike- no more hour-plus individual presentations by cabinet members the last few have taken up WAY too much time.

Kris - can you help me take it from here?
